

Adjust line to the north. The idea is to pull the point where the front yard of 25' is met on the western property line further away from the point where the 25' front yard is met on the eastern property line.

